LINING MANAGEMENT.

One of the greatest drawbacks to a new mining country, seeking development, is the manner by which owners try to control the mine and freeze out their co-partners. There are a great many cases in which a man has lost his all through the connivance of those who wish to get rid of him, but there are Courts established for rectifying these differences, and any other course is lawless. We are led to these remarks by the Peck troubles in Yavapai county. This mine bears a good reputation all over the country, as being a very rich one. Of its richness it cannot be doubted. Just at the time when its brightest hopes were about being realized, a complication of troubles arose: the mine property taken and held by force of arms, even so far as to prevent the legal officers of the county obeying the mandates of the law; the mine is shut down, thereby, hindering its development. What is the result of this taking possession of a mine by force of arms? It is a dark shadow not only over the mine in dispute, but over the Territory at large. To develop mining property capital is required, and men of means and energy are invited to invest, but when lawlessness takes precedence over judicial power, capitalists are timid about putting capital in such a country; those who contemplate visiting the Territory are reluctant about coming, and a spirit of uncertainty prevails. The mine alluded to will in all probability be shut down for months; its development will lie dormant; its silvery stream of bullion will be stopped—all on account of differences that could be adjusted without this show of ill-gained power. The resources of our Territory are spoken of all over a broad land, machinery is now being brought to develop mines that have lain idle for years, new life has been infused in the miner and prospector, and a brighter look has been given the whole Territory. Will not this revert back, if differences between owners cannot be settled by legal measures instead of force.

OUR NATAL DAY.

Four weeks from this date occurs a day that should be dear to every true lover of liberty, and the proper observance of which should be enjoyed by all. Phoenix—no longer a small town with but a sparse population, but now a city, has, thus far made no preparation for celebrating its advent. Our citizens should call a meeting and canvass the matter, and let us have the finest celebration in the Territory. There are a large number of persons living near by in the valley, that would visit the town. Since the settlement of the Territory, this day has passed with simply a remembrance, and if celebrated at all only by a horse race. Let us wake up from this lethargy of bygone days, and enter into it with a spirit of patriotism. Other towns in Arizona have taken the matter in hand and will celebrate in a creditable manner. Let not Phoenix—the coming city of the Territory—be backward in the movement, but commence at once and make arrangements for a general and good jubilation.

As will be seen by our dispatches in another column, the Prison Commissioners met last Saturday at Yuma and sold the bonds to Lewis, Bro., of San Francisco, for 90 cents. The appropriation will build twelve cells and a dining room for the prisoners. For some time past the prison has been crowded, and these new cells will come in very handy.

The Sentinel of last Saturday contained a poem in reply to "Argus" published in a contemporary some time since, that for biting epigrams and sharp cutting sentences, is very rarely equalled. It was called out, says the Sentinel, by long continued provocation, and we should judge that "Argus" is laid on the shelf.

Our Prescott exchanges state that a rumor is afloat that our Governor will resign his office as Chief Executive of Arizona. We trust it will not be true, as we have every confidence in the ability and good government of the Territory under the administration of Gov. John C. Fremont, and that he will be instrumental in developing its many resources.

On every hand can be heard the buzz of the reaper and the hum of the thrasher in our valley. The yield of the cereals this year will be large, probably exceeding that of last year. Our northern brothers are praying for rain, while we are doing the reverse as it would entail damage here.

The original subsidiary silver bill made the sum of twenty dollars a legal tender, but the bill as finally passed made the amount ten dollars.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

Encouraging news comes from the Silver District, Yuma county.

Rev. F. S. Crawford has been commissioned for the Presbyterian Church at Prescott.

Silver Belt. The Stonewall mill, although running but five hours out of the 24 in consequence of the scarcity of water, is turning out bullion at the rate of $200 per hour. We think it will not be long before full supply of water will be obtained and as the ore is abundant, the mill will then run on full time.

Enterprise. The different saw mills in the vicinity of Prescott are all running on full time. G. W. Curtis' mill yesterday forenoon turned out 7,000 feet of lumber. Messrs. Parker, west of Prescott, have their saws at work, and Clark & Adams have received a new shingle machine which they will put in operation at their mill.

Enterprise. The City Assessor is about through with assessing the property in Prescott for the present year. The roll will foot up about the same as last year, but the rates are lower and the levy will be. The town is out of debt with $2,000 cash on hand. The income from licenses pays all running expenses.

Miner. Probably the largest and richest copper mine in the world, exists in Yavapai county. Bring your railroads in Mr. Capitalist and we will load all your trains daily with ore that contains 70 per cent. of the pure metal. We know whereof we speak, and this mine will, when properly opened, astonish the world. Just think of a solid wall 18 feet wide a mile long, and reaching down as far as the roots of the grand old mountains built of copper.

Star. Edward B. Marshall arrived from Sonora Tuesday night. While there he visited the Agua Caliente land grant. This grant lies just over the line south of the Calabasas company's property, and is forty-eight miles square. It has been purchased by Eugene L. Sullivan & Co., San Francisco. Mr. Marshall states that the value of this grant can scarcely be over estimated. Large bodies of timber are scattered over its surface, while streams of running water flowing from springs of living freshness traverse its valleys and plains. It also contains several rich mines of gold and silver.

The Chicago Times of the 20th ultimo, says the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad have bought the Mexican grant of 15,000 acres per mile to aid a railroad from Guymara to El Paso, and already contracts are being let for the construction of four hundred miles of road. To avail itself of the grant, the road will strike out by the most feasible route to Mexico. The terminus of the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe will be at Guymara, which has a fine harbor, on the Pacific ocean.

PERSONAL.

S. Nathan has returned from a short trip to Seymour.

M. Edwards has gone to San Francisco on a business trip. He will return in a few days.

Senator W. J. Graves, who has been spending a few days in Phoenix, took his departure last night. He is in the Territory on mining business.

G. A. Vincent took his departure for Oakland a few days ago, after a lengthy stay in the Cave Creek district. He took with him some excellent specimens of ore, showing fine gold in large quantities.

G. W. Neale who has received the appointment of Court Reporter for this district, arrived Sunday, and took his departure last evening for San Bernardino. He will return in about a month and take up his permanent residence here.
